"As cold as Christmas" is a saying that don't count in Kansas.

The last found dead the dead alive—or rather the hunters have returned. They were gone ten days and had, according to their own account, a glorious time chasing coyotes and other minor live stock. They left several maddened horses of anti-slavery animals in their wake, but owing to the absence of an artist were unable to bring specimens with them.

The select ball at the opera house Friday eve was a success in every sense of the word. The music was a very prominent feature and was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coffman of this city, and Chalk Beeson of Dodge City. The supper given at the Alamo was the usual princely feast served by that house on such occasions. About forty couple at home and from abroad participated, and all report an enjoyable time.
